The Northfield Schools Foreword Is Issued

The Northfield Schools have issued in pamphlet form their foreword in the education of boys and girls—This statement goes on to say:

"Boys and girls eager for an education but unable in these difficult days to afford the more expensive private schools will find their opportunity at the two Northfield schools. Mount Hermon is the boys' school. Northfield Seminary for girls.

Each school has its own campus and faculty. A joint Board of Trustees and business organization provide economical management.

A large endowment and the annual support of many generous friends make possible the low rate of $350. a year. This includes board, tuition, and ordinary laundry, as well as hospital, doctor, and gymnasium fees. The only extras the student will be required to meet are the cost of books and stationery and an enrollment fee of $10. Some courses require small laboratory fees. A limited amount of scholarship aid is available for students of demonstrated ability.

Mr. D. L. Moody founded Northfield Seminary in 1879. Mount Hermon School in 1881. These two schools were among Mr. Moody's principal interests until his death in 1899. The mark of this great man's character has been indelibly imprinted on these schools for more than half a century.

In 1912 the two schools were merged into one corporate body called The Northfield Schools. Each school retained its own campus and faculty and to a large extent its own individuality. The steady growth of the schools since unifying has provided the wisdom of this merger.

The curricula, while designed primarily for college preparatory work, offer courses which will appeal to those wishing to finish their academic education. Applicants for admission should normally be not less than 14 years of age and should have completed grammar school work.

College preparatory courses are offered both for those wishing to enter Liberal Arts colleges and for students who wish to pursue technical and scientific college courses. Graduates are admitted by certificate to colleges which accept secondary school certificates. College Entrance Board examinations are held at the schools in June.

Music plays an important part at The Northfield Schools. Glee Clubs and orchestras have high standards and are under excellent supervision. Elective courses in vocal and instrumental music are available.

Two periods of Bible study each week are required. Regular attendance at Chapel is required. Each school has its own non-denominational church.

Each school has an excellent gymnasium, modern swimming pool, and well equipped athletic field. Courses in physical education are required. Each school has its own infirmary and professional staff.

A distinctive feature of The Northfield Schools is the "work hour." Each student is expected to give a specified amount of time to manual or domestic work.

The boys work 10 1/2 hours each week and are assigned to farm, kitchen, laundry, or janitor tasks. In their co-operative housekeeping the girls under trained supervision, perform all the domestic work in their dormitories, giving 8 hours a week. The "work hour" not only aids materially in keeping fees low but is a distinct educational and character building feature.

Since opening its doors in 1881 Mount Hermon School has enrolled 14,364 students.

During the four years past 174 boys have been enrolled. They represent 23 states and 7 foreign countries. During the past ten years 45 states and .65 foreign countries have been represented.

Since the founding of Northfield Seminary in 1879, 10,862 alumnae have gone out.

During the four years past 174 Northfield Seminary graduates have entered college. The principal universities to which these graduates have gone are Smith, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Oberlin, Barnard, Simmons, Wellesley, Vassar.

During the year 1932-33, 538 girls entered Northfield Seminary from 23 states and 5 foreign countries. During the past ten years 40 states and 32 foreign countries have been represented.

Auto Accidents More Than Usual

During the past week several auto accidents were reported in this vicinity but fortunately no deaths ensued. In all cases reports were made to the proper authorities.

Early last Friday evening a sedan going north through Northfield on Main Street with license plates of the District of Columbia when it struck a large truck. The road was slippery and the woman driving the sedan applied the brakes to slow down when the wheels locked and the sedan careened the left side side-swiping the truck with sufficient force damaging rear wheel housing and body of the sedan. The sedan was taken to Morgan's Garage for repairs and the occupants, a mother, two daughters and a dog remained in town over night proceeding on to Maine their destination Saturday morning.

Last Friday afternoon a Ford sedan with Mass. license 203,167 left the road coming toward Northfield on Lower's Retreat hill. It was said to have been occupied by a man and a woman who were uninjured as the fence and a tree kept the car from tumbling down the embankment. A wrecker from Winchester pulled the car back on the road though somewhat damaged.

Over a twenty-five foot embankment on the Hinsdale Road a couple of miles north of the town, a light Ford coupe containing Floyd Goodale and Angelo Afusaro, both of Greenfield went while the occupants were traveling southward about one o'clock last Thursday morning causing severe injuries to Afusaro, who was taken to the Northfield hospital. Goodale sustained a fracture of a small bone in his right ankle and was taken to his home.

Passersby rescued the two men when the car went over the bank. Afusaro was thrown clear of the car, but Goodale was pinned under it as it rolled over several times. The car was badly damaged.

Hotel Musicales

The guests and friends of the Northfield Hotel were treated to some very fine impromptu musicales last week and those who were privileged to attend speak of them as very pleasing and a much appreciated evening entertainment.

On last Thursday evening Mrs. Ernestine Hubbard gave a brief recital of songs in her usual most excellent manner and on last Saturday evening Mr. C. R. Taggart of Newbury, Vermont that able master of the violin delighted the audience with his playing. Other musicales will follow.

Mr. Ross Spencer was a member of the official party which witnessed a demonstration of gasoline consumption by a Ford V-8 automobile last Friday. The route of the auto was through Northfield from Bernardston and thence to Millers Falls and Greenfield. The car secured an average of 21 miles to the gallon.

The charter of the town of Brattleboro grants the municipality the right to operate an electric system, while the charter of the Connecticut River Power Co., provides that electricity must be sold to the town at a special low rate if it is so desired. It would be necessary then for the town to install only a sub-station and a distributing system.

TODAY I found a recipe which recalled childhood days — my grandmother's recipe for Golden Spice Cake—a family joke—for my aunts and mother always failed when they attempted it.

Grandmother was old-fashioned and "carried the recipe in her head." Her directions were "a pinch of this, a scant cup of that, something the size of an egg." How different recipes are today, with their standard measurements.

Standard Measurements

What are They?
It means using standard equipment in a certain standardized way. What are some of these aids to success?

 Standard measuring spoons, consisting of one tablespoon, one teaspoon, one half teaspoon and one quarter teaspoon. The tablespoon equals three teaspoons.

 Standard measuring cup, approved by the U. S. Bureau of Standards, is an accurate half pint measure, equal to 16 level tablespoons. It is grooved on one side to read 1/4, 1/2 and 3/4; on the other side to read 1/3 and 2/3.

But this is not all—there is right and a wrong way to use these tools for each type of ingredient. Important points to remember are to measure flour after sifting; to measure baking powder by filling a spoon full, then leveling off with a spatula or knife; to measure shortening by pressing down into cup or spoon so firmly that it holds the shape of the tool when turned out; in measuring liquids, have cup level. Here is grandmother's cake modernized.

Golden Spice Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 1/2 teaspoons combination baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; 1/4 teaspoon cloves; 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg; 1/4 teaspoon mace; 1/4 teaspoon allspice; 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening; 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed; 1 egg, or 2 egg yolks, well beaten; 3/4 cup milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and beat together thoroughly. Add egg, then flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until mixture is thoroughly blended. Bake in greased pan, 8 x 8 x 2 inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 minutes.

CHOCOLATE makes festive food out of every dish in which you use it. It will lend even this simple economical Berkshire Pudding that "company for dinner" touch.

Berkshire Pudding

3 squares unsweetened chocolate cut in pieces; 3 cups milk; 1/2 cup sugar; 4 tablespoons flour; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Add chocolate to milk in double boiler and beat. When chocolate is melted beat with rotary egg beater until thickened. Combine sugar, salt, and flour, and add a small amount of chocolate mixture, stirring vigorously. Return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Then cook 20 to 25 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Add vanilla. Chill and serve with cream. Serves 6.

Devil's Food Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour; 1 teaspoon soda; 1/2 cup butter or other shortening; 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed; 2 eggs (or 3 egg yolks), unbeaten; 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted; 1 cup milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased 10-inch layer pans or three greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350° F.) 25 minutes. Spread boiled frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake.

Creamy Chocolate Frosting

3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; 4 tablespoons hot water; 1 egg white, unbeaten; dash of salt; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted. Combine sugar and hot water. Add egg white and beat until thoroughly mixed. Add remaining ingredients and beat until blended. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of three 9-inch layers.

Chocolate Pie

3 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces; 2 1/2 cups milk; 6 tablespoons flour; 1 cup sugar; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1 baked 9-inch pie shell. 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten; 4 tablespoons sugar. Add chocolate to milk in double boiler and beat. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Combine flour, sugar, and salt. Add to chocolate mixture, stirring well. Pour small amount of chocolate mixture over egg yolks, stirring vigorously. Return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add butter and vanilla. Cool. Pour into pie shell. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is thoroughly blended. After all sugar is added, continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Fill lightly on filling. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes.

when you apply for a job, you are asked for your telephone number. Next to your name and address it's the most important thing on the application.

First call usually goes to the man or woman who can be reached quickest. Employment managers say they are likely to choose those who are able to give telephone numbers when applying.

Factory and employment offices list telephone numbers of employees and applicants. Plants on part time call their people back to work by telephone. Telephone service costs little compared to the help it can give you in getting work and in many other ways.

A single call might pay for your telephone for a month or more.

IN ANSWER TO A LADY'S LETTER

A lady writes to say that she does not understand why an 8-cylinder car does not cost more to run than a car with fewer cylinders. She refers to my statement that our Ford V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gas than any car we have made.

The use of 8-cylinders does not mean the addition of two or four extra fuel consumers. It is not, for example, a 4-cylinder engine multiplied by two. Our 8-cylinder engine takes the fuel supply of an ordinary 4-cylinder engine and divides it eight ways. And why?

By reducing four larger explosions into eight smaller ones, we get engine smoothness and quietness. Eight-cylinders indicate the way the gas is used, not the amount. It is just the difference between going upstairs in four long jumps or in eight ordinary steps.

Two things use up gas—bad engine design and useless car weight. Besides having an engine that gets a high percentage of power out of the fuel, the Ford V-8 has a light, strong body and chassis so that no power is wasted in moving excess weight.

The only extravagance about the new Ford V-8 engine is in the building of it. The extravagance is ours—the economy is yours.

The whole question of car economy needs clearing up. An economical car gives economy all round. Price, operation, upkeep, all play their part. If what you save on gas you lose elsewhere, that is not economy.

As to upkeep, our dealers say that in recent years the improved quality of Ford cars has cut down their repair business 50 per cent.

As to price with quality,—judge for yourself.

As to economy, here is the record of a stock car three weeks out of shop in Oklahoma:

On a run of 10,054 miles at the rate of 1,000 miles a day—the Ford V-8 gave 18.8 miles per gallon of gas. Not a drop of water was added to the radiator. The oil was changed once in 1,000 miles.

That should answer a lot of questions.

STRANGE fact about the tire business is — the PRICE of all tires is about alike. You might as well pick the best—in quality, in safety, in mileage.

What's the best in quality? The public says Goodyear—preferred by more people than any THREE other makes.

What's the best in safety? Accurate tests on wet concrete show Goodyears will stop a car quicker than any other tire. The next best tire skidded 10% more—other tires skidded up to 77% more under exactly the same conditions.

What's the best in mileage? Bus fleet records show Goodyear Tires give 97% more mileage than they gave five years ago.

Now that all prices are headed UP—it's more important than ever to get the most for your money. Better look over your tires and buy new Goodyears now while prices are still low.

STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

—neither strong enough,
nor safe enough, nor quiet enough for the body of a quality car
like CHEVROLET

CHEVROLET There is only one type of body construction which Chevrolet will permit on the chassis of the cars it builds: That's the type which every test—and every experience—has proved to be the safest, strongest, and best. Not steel alone, because steel alone is not enough. But a Fisher body of steel reinforced by hardwood! The same kind of construction used on practically all the highest-priced cars in America.

Chevrolet well knows that steel alone has one distinct advantage: it's cheaper. Steel alone is strong—up to a certain point. BUT—beyond that point, steel alone will bend and crumple under severe stress or shock. It takes the strength and supporting solidity of a hardwood reinforcement to give you the full protection and full satisfaction you want in a motor car body today.

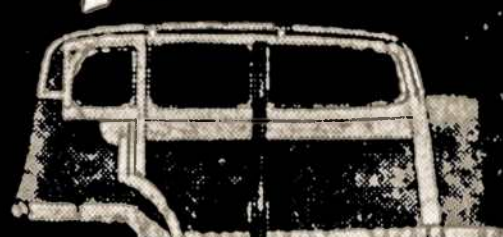

If you're thinking of buying a new low-priced car, better watch this matter of bodies, and watch it carefully. Insist on steel reinforced by hardwood! Fortunately, the only low-priced car with this preferred type of body is also the only car with a proven valve-in-head six; with Fisher Ventilation; Cushion-Balanced Power; a Starterator. That car is Chevrolet—America's most economical automobile.

Poet's Corner

A NORTHFIELD DAY

The morn breaks clear, with joy we see
The sunshine flickering in the pines,
The river gleams
Beneath the bridge, the early dew on grass and tree
Cleanses the vale anew, it seems.

Each day is full of joy and peace,
Sweet fellowship we have, and gain
New inspiration for God's work, and lease
Fresh hope for life's long strain.

The links, the courts, the lake, the walks,
All help to make our bodies strong.
We learn new poise in Heaven's Heights
With which to meet thee city's throng.

And then the sun sets far beyond
The blue black mountains, on whose breast
The shadows grow. Night waves its wand
Granting us calm and peaceful rest.

Postmasterships

What plans are awaiting good Democrats these days and what seekers for the Postmasterships in the towns and cities of the country. In an article in American Magazine Postmaster General Farley who is also chairman of the Democratic National Committee has thus written:

"I am following two fundamental rules: (1) Is the applicant qualified? (2) Is he loyal to the party and sympathetic toward the program of Franklin D. Roosevelt?" "Patronage is a reward to those who have worked for party victory. It is also an assistance in building party machinery for the next election. It is also—and this the public usually forgets—the test by which a party shows its fitness to govern."

"A Republican officeholder has a chance of reappointment—but he has two strikes on him... If he knows more about his job than anybody else, he will hold his position. But if there is a Democrat just as well qualified the Democrat will get the job."

Laundry Lessons

CARE OF KNITTED THINGS

KNITTED garments made of silk, wool and rayon demand special attention in washing in order to prevent stretching or shrinking.

The following suggestions are offered as a guide to the safe washing of such garments:

1. Prepare tepid or cool suds, using mild, pure, white soap or flakes. Take no chances on home-made soap. A little borax will soften very hard water.

2. Put garment in suds and wash quickly by gently swirling around and squeezing suds through it. Do not rub. A second suds may be used if the garment is badly soiled.

3. Squeeze suds out, without wringing, and put garment through several lukewarm rinsings. Squeeze as dry as possible without twisting, and place on flat surface or hang evenly over line to dry. Lingerie may be handled in latter way, but sweaters should be spread on dry towel and pulled into shape according to original measurements taken before washing. For best results, fill sleeves with cheese-cloth and put another towel between front and back of garment. When contrasting colors are present, remove all moisture possible to prevent dye from spreading. Leave in warm (not hot) place until dry.

A booklet, "Fine Fabrics," which describes in detail the care and laundering of delicate materials, may be secured without cost by writing to the National Household Service, 80 East 11th Street, New York, N. Y.

EDITORIAL

"To stop advertising is to let your business run on momentum, and momentum is a gradual move toward a dead stop."

—Edelbert Hubbard.

There is no short cut to success. It is only accomplished by hard work, a diligent labor honestly performed, and an endeavor to be economical in one's expenditures when money is plenty. A sure way of getting ahead is to save and deposit the money in your bank, systematically where it will earn some interest and accumulate against the day when dire necessity demands its withdrawal.

The Editor of the Berkshire Gazette says that "One of the noisy nuisances of the night these days is the night hawk automobile and its night hawk driver. The latter may be young or otherwise, male or female, drunk or sober or any degree between. The pest infests state highways, town streets and sometimes even private driveways. Why not put the curfew on them as a peace disturber?" Yes, brother Editor that's very good but better still why not turn the spot light on them and publish the fact. Let's have a list of these midnight marauders.

It is not true that utilities are making large profits. Public regulation prevents that. Many companies are making no profit at all, although maintaining maximum service. They are all paying constantly mounting tax bills from diminished revenues — tax bills that threaten to eliminate the investor's return. If the public is misled by vote-seeking political criticism of the utilities it will suffer in the long run because of crippled electric expansion and increased taxes.

They're beginning to talk already about the next Congress, which convenes January 3rd for its first regular session.

Tax changes, reciprocal tariffs, bankruptcy revision, veteran's benefits, war debts — here are a few of the principal economic-social subjects that will be thrashed out. It is an open secret that Mr. Roosevelt is not through with his program — he got much out of the last Congress, and he will ask much from the next. He will doubtless have introduced a sweeping revolutionary banking bill, which will eliminate state and private banks. Another prospective proposal of vast importance is a transportation act to bring railroads, highway carriers, barges, lines and air vehicles under centralized regulation. Again, it is believed that the securities bill, drastic as it is, will be made still more rigid and fool-proof.

Winchester Takes Game

The Northfield A. A. ball team dropped a very close and well played game to the Winchester A. A. last Monday by the score of 2-1.

Francis Riel the Turners Falls High School ace was on the mound for the locals and he pitched as fine a game of ball as could be desired. The game was a pitching duel between Riel and Lane of Keene.

Northfield started out in the first when Freddie Riel singled, stole second and scored on Dean Williams Texas leaguer over second.

The Winchester boys scored their two runs in the fourth when George Hanna doubled to left, Sarri doubled to right and Qualters singled.

Francie Riel showed remarkable pitching ability in the first and second innings. In the first with but one out and the bases full he made G. Hanna ground to Bistrek who nailed Charlie Hanna at the plate and then Francie struck out Nosek to retire the side.

In the second with Savri on third and no one out Lane struck out, Qualters popped out to Fred Riel and Bent was out, Urganiewicz to Williams.

The game was exceptionally fast being played in one hour and five minutes.

Wins Another Game

The Northfield ball team took a game from the Sunderland town team last Wednesday night by the score of 7-3.

"Bob" Shearer pitched a good game allowing only four hits. The three runs credited to the visitors were all the result of misplays by the local infielders.

The Northfield boys tallied one run in each of the first three innings and the visitors scored their three in the third.

In the fifth the locals chalked up four more runs on a two bagger by Yez, Shearer's fielder's choice, a home run by Francis Riel, a three base hit by Williams and Polhemus fielder's choice.

"Red" Yez took the batting honors with a single, a double and a base on balls in four trips to the plate while Williams got a two bagger and a three base hit out of four trips. Francie Riel's homer with two on also helped the locals.

For the purpose of awakening the youth of America to a realization of the advantages offered by the United States Merchant Marine as a career, the American Nautical Academy, National Training School for Merchant Marine Officers, Washington, D. C. is giving such an opportunity to boys and young men between the ages of 10 and 24 years by enabling them to secure from two to four weeks of training on board a schoolship of the Academy within the period from August 1st to September 30th, and boys of Northfield are offered this chance.

The training ship to which the young men will be assigned is a five masted barkentine-rigged vessel of 2500 tons, 300 feet long and 46 feet wide. The vessel was built in 1919-20 and is one of the largest sailing vessels under the United States flag.

While on board ship the boys will follow the regular daily ship routine and will be given practical instruction in nautical subjects including seamanship, signaling, rowing, handling and use of life boats, swimming, life-saving and naval drills.

No charge will be made for instruction nor for living quarters on board ship, but a charge of 39 cents will be made for each meal. Due to the fact that the number of accommodations available is limited, those wishing to take advantage of this opportunity should send their applications at once to the Commanding Officer, Training Ship MARSALA, Edgewater, New Jersey.

Control "Glad" Thrips

Through the courtesy of Mrs. George Carr and from information of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, The Herald is privileged to pass on this information concerning the control of gladiolus thrips which are ruining our flowers.

The insects are found on the plants during the summer season of the year; usually very small, slender and active, and about 1-16 of an inch in length. The pest is black in color, but in the younger stages it may be a greenish yellowish color. It travels by crawling and flying, with the result that an infested field may infest the entire neighborhood.

Damage caused by the insect is of two types. During the winter season, it feeds on the corns in storage, causing a russetting and burning of the areas upon which it has fed. It may also feed upon the base of the corns, killing or injuring the rootlets. This feeding causes retardation in the growth of the plant and results in inferior flowers. After planting, the thrips follow the slightly infested corns to the surface and feed upon the leaf area throughout the season of the flower and foliage. The plants which are infested with thrips have a silvery appearance on the leaves. The bud sheaves dry out and become straw colored like the blasted buds of narcissus flowers. The petals are injured while in the bud stage, preventing the normal opening of the flowers. Loss of color from the attack of the pest is manifested in whitish streaks in the petals. In severe infestations the spike never develops but turns brown and appears as if it had been scorched or burned.

Sprays applied during the summer will do much to check the spread and development of the thrips and make possible the production of a good crop of flowers. Perhaps the best spray we have to recommend is composed of Paris green, brown sugar, and water.

For small quantities:
1 teaspoon Paris green
10 ounces brown sugar
1 gallon water

To obtain the best results it is necessary to wet all the leaf surface of the plants thoroughly and to keep the spray mixture well stirred or agitated during application. Spraying should be started early in the season while the plants are small and continued every ten days or two weeks during the growing season. This spray may cause the blossom spikes to be slightly sticky when the flowers are cut. For that reason, it is well to note that it can be easily washed off by a hose or by soaking of the flower spikes. This spray properly applied every 10 days during the summer season should enable the grower to produce a good crop of flowers.

Control measures are greatly helped by a thorough cleaning up of the field early in the fall after the gladiolus bulbs have ripened. Burn all of the husks, tops of the plants, and other crop refuse which will probably have to be done by using a brush or wood fire and gradually feeding it with the tops. This method is necessary because the tops are green. After this operation, a thorough plowing and harrowing of the field is desirable.

"The time will come," shouted the speaker, "when women will get men's wages."

"Yes," said a little man in the corner. "Next Friday night." — Vancouver Province.
